

Morpho, Inc. Surpasses 300 Million Mark in Software Licenses for the 2nd Quarter of 2010

Tokyo, Japan - May 20, 2011 – Morpho, Inc., the global leader in software image processing solutions for mobile devices, today announced that it has surpassed the 300 million mark in software licenses on mobile devices for the second quarter of its fiscal year ending April, 2011. Morpho, Inc.'s mobile imaging product line, along with the number of handsets supported has continued to expand since the company first started shipping mobile image processing solutions in 2006.

Morpho's embedded imaging offerings include:

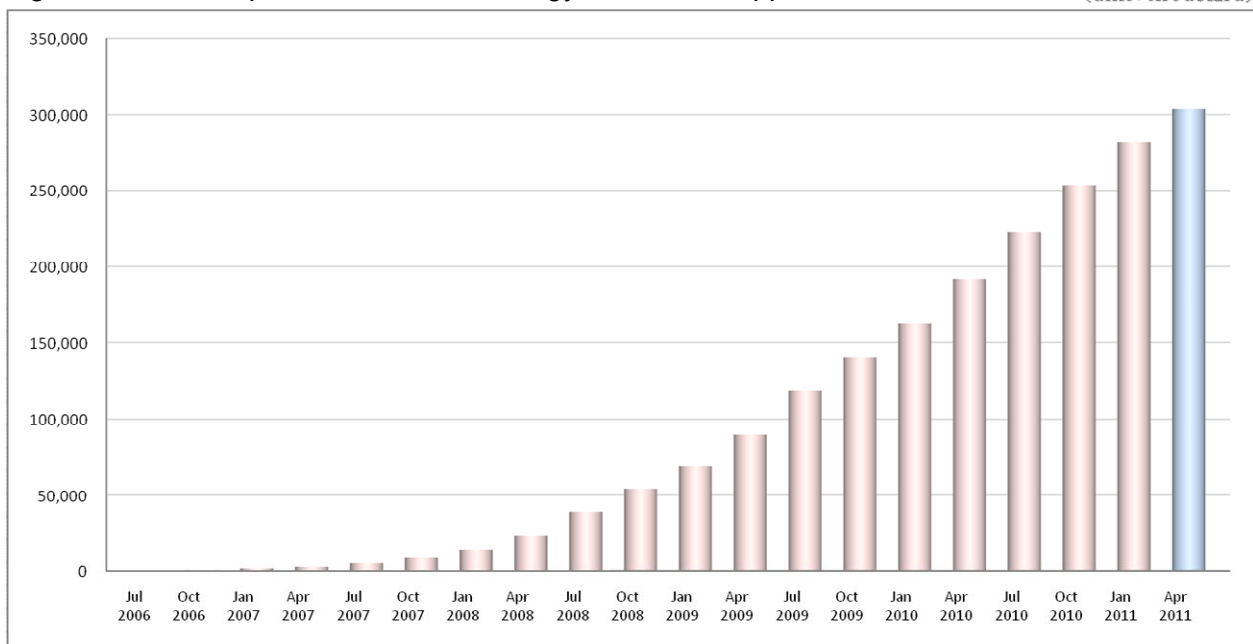

1. "PhotoSolid", still image stabilization
2. "ImageSurf", a high-speed image rendering engine
3. "FrameSolid", frame interpolation
4. "Morpho Slide 3D", stereoscopic 3D image capturing technology

These products are also available in various platforms of rapidly emerging smartphone.

"We have reached this 300 million licenses milestone with focusing on developing innovative products that meet the user's needs utilizing our digital imaging process technologies," stated Dr. Masaki Hiraga, President of Morpho, Inc. "As the mobile device market evolves, our product bundles are expanding into various platforms such as smartphone categories. We will continue to define next generation imaging frameworks and will provide the solutions to meet consumer's satisfaction."
